THE DAILY BULLETIN.

Published every afternoon and delivered in this city, the suburbs and Aberdeen by our carriers, at 6 CENTS a week.

It is welcomed in the households of men of both political parties, for the reason that it is more of a newspaper than a political journal.

Its wide circulation therefore makes it a valuable vehicle for business announcements, which we respectfully invite to our columns.

JOB WORK

Of all kinds neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the office of the DAILY BULLETIN.

"The Shirt-Tail Issue."

"One night Tom Corwin stopped at a log hut, where all of the family ate, slept and lived in the only room in the house, after the simple habits of that day. The occupant was a Democrat, and Corwin said he never dreamed of getting his vote. But that night, as they gathered round the fireside, he asked the fellow if he knew Mr. —, his competitor. 'Wal,' replied the farmer, 'I rather guess I do—I'll never vote for him.'"

This was a sensation to Corwin. He was now on the trail of a something that might prove beneficial in his canvass—something he might use at his next meeting to set the house in a roar.

"May I ask your reason for not voting for him?" asked Mr. Corwin. "I am sure Mr. — is a good old Locofoco."

"I don't keer for that," replied Tom's host.

"He kin never git my vote. No man that wears a woman's gown of nights kin have my vote."

This the old fellow said as solemnly as possible, and without a smile. Tom's quick penetration took the point, and with a visage heavy with mock gravity, while he was choking back the laugh that the comic situation provoked, Tom said:

"He wears a woman's gown, does he, eh? Just think of it—a woman's gown. A pretty candidate for congress."

"Yaas," said the old lady, who sat knitting in the chimney corner, and raising her spectacles she looked up from her knitting, and in a solemn tone, said:

"Yaas, Mr. Corwin, that be the God Almighty's truth, if my old man over told the truth in his life. I seed him put on that ar' dratted gown, and ef you believe me, it had a tail as long as my gown, too," and the old lady looked fierce. Not a smile appeared on any face. Tom said he was dying to have a good laugh over it. But the fun of the whole thing was its absolute sobriety and ludicrous solemnity.

"Wal," drawled the old man, "you see it was in this way:

He was here one night jist as you be to-night, and mam and I went into that ar' bed right there, and he into his bed right here."

Afore he got in he stooped down as if he was a gwine to pray. 'Hisht,' says, I, mam our congressman is kinder pious. Jist then he opened his saddlebags, and I peeped out to see what it was: And I'll be golddarned ef it wasn't a woman's shirt with a tail a mile, and into it he clim and popped into bed and jist looked like an ole woman for all the world."

"You and I, droned the farmer, 'Mr. Corwin, works hard all day in our ole shirts, and they is all-fired sweaty sometimes, but we thinks nothin' of sleepin' in 'em. But that darned cuss is so aristocratic that he hez to put on airs and kerry his wife's shirt around with him, and sleeps in bit, darn him. I'll never vote for such a man.'"

Tom had it. He slept little that night, next day he went forth on his errand of drumming up a crowd for his night meeting.

At the meeting he opened thus: "My friends, it was thought there was no issue in this campaign. I know my opponent claims there is none. But I tell you there is. It is a very solemn one, too. It is the "Shirt-tail issue." And then he went on amid peals of laughter, to tell the story, and carried the crowd with him. Night after night he told that yarn to crowds that serenaded it with yells of laughter. Tom carried the district and went to congress.

"While Tom Corwin was telling that very story," said General Garfield, "and just as he reached the climax and was on his feet vociferating that comical speech about the shirt, his head dropped a little, his countenance turned ashy, and he started to fall, but I caught him in my arms, and so Tom Corwin died!"

The man who stops his paper to economize ought to cut his nose off to keep from buying handkerchiefs.

The Russian Hangman.

There is but one state executioner in the vast Russian realm, and he is a pardoned malefactor named Froloff, who, in the pre-Nihilistic days, when the abolition of capital punishment was still maintained in Muscovy, committed three successive murders, and was condemned to penal servitude for life. When, however, revolutionary success rendered the services of an imperial hangman indispensable to the ministry of justice, Froloff volunteered for the office on condition that an amnesty for his past misdeeds should be granted him. His offer was accepted, and for some time past he has been a busy man. For every "function" he receives forty silver rubles—about $30—from the Russian exchequer; but that official fee by no means represents the total emolument he derives from the practice of his handicraft, for he is permitted to trade upon the superstition still current in Russian society respecting the luck conferred upon gamblers by the possession of a morsel of the rope with which a human being has been strangled, either by the hand of justice or by his own.

The Coldest Place on Earth.

The coldest place on earth is not, as has hitherto been believed by meteorologists, Yakutsk, in Siberia, but Verkoyansk, in the same region, lying in 67½ degrees north latitude, on the River Yana. Its lowest mean temperature is 48.6 below zero centigrade. This is the cold pole of the earth in Asia, the corresponding pole in America being to the north of the Parry Islands, and the line joining the two places does not pass the North Pole itself, which is thus, in all probability, outside the line of greatest cold. It is well known that in the tropics, on the other hand, the greatest heat is not at the Equator, but some distance north and south of it.

Garfield at least Honorable.

N. Y. Sun: It is alleged, on high authority, that if General Garfield had lived he would not have aided the repudiation party in Virginia. His hostility to the repudiation of public debts was so profound and so firm, we are told, that he would never have surrendered it to considerations of mere party advantage.

If this statement be true, it is most honorable to Garfield.

A few days ago a little Oil City girl was taken sick and her parents called a doctor whom she did not like. "Are you sick, Gracie?" asked the M. D., as he bent over his little patient. The little lady looked at him a moment in the utmost disdain, and then, in a tone of the deepest sarcasm replied, as she turned her face from him: "Well, I should think you ought to know. Do you suppose I am lying here in bed and taking your horrid old medicine for the fun of it?" The doctor wilted.

A young lady of Lewiston, Maine, is on her wedding tour, after losing three lovers to whom she became engaged. Her first affianced died of consumption. Her second was prostrated with small-pox, and died a few days before the time fixed for their marriage. Her third intended was accidentally drowned on the eve of their wedding-day. Her fourth love lived to marry her.

In Ulster county, New York, an elegantly-dressed woman entered a store, followed by a burly negro in corduroy trousers and red shirt. The negro, on asking the price of an article, was told by the glib salesman, "please wait a moment until I see what this lady wants." "Haw! haw!," roared Othello, with a horrible leer. "dat's my wife!"

Captain John Brooks, who lately died at Bridgeport, Conn., left in his will an injunction that his remains be strictly kept from the view of everybody except the undertaker. He desired to be remembered as he was when alive.

It is predicted that the bill to admit Dakota into the Union of States will fail. By the admission of Dakota, the Republicans expected to get two Senators and a Representative.

It is now announced that it is settled Patti is to sing in opera at the Cincinnati May Festival, but she refuses to appear in full opera, and will have nothing to do with the Mapleson management.

THE Cynthia Democrat has been sold to Hon. W. Vaughn Prather, Clerk of the Kentucky Senate, by Judge Arhies Perrin, the owner. It will be issued as a democratic weekly as heretofore.

DOUGLAS County, Dakota, was organized last winter by fraud, and though it has neither school house nor school district, and only about $12,000 worth of taxable property, $200,000 worth of county bonds are in the New York market.

NEGOTIATIONS for a reciprocity with Mexico will soon be brought to the attention of congress. The importance of trade with that country, receiving its products of coffee, sugar, indigo, gold, silver and copper, in exchange for United States manufactured goods, is receiving the attention of our best informed statesmen. England has long enjoyed Mexico's trade, as the outcome of a treaty brought about many years ago by a shrewd British diplomat.

THE monument to be built at Cleveland, Ohio, in memory of President Garfield is expected to cost about $100,000. Of this sum $72,000 have already been raised, $60,000 coming from Ohio alone. Of Ohio's share Cleveland contributed fully $50,000. The remainder of the sum needed, it is expected will be raised from the sale of relics made of the wood, cloth and other materials used in the catafalque. They are already offered for sale in the large cities.

THE number of immigrants that arrived at Castle Garden in the year just closed is larger than any previous year in the history of the port. The arrivals were 432,635, an increase of 105,041 over the arrivals for 1880, and 114,041 more than the total for the four years from 1875 to 1878, inclusive. From January 1st to December 1st last year there were 188,255 German immigrants, 62,406 Irish, 36,552 English, 35,335 from Sweden, nearly 14,000 from Norway, and about the same number from Italy; 339 came from China, 49 from Japan, 21 from the British East Indies, 14 from Greece and 9 from Malta. The Castle Garden Labor Bureau found employment for 48,745 immigrants.

In number Two they spread the net,
A thing there is much art in,
And in the meshes safely caught
That early bird, the Martin.

The battle waged in number Three
Was stubborn fought and fierce,
And vict'ry when the sun went down
Perched o'er the plume of Pearce.

The Council met cast in the Fifth
And stoutly dragged by all,
When safely landed, made it clear
They'd got a first rate Hall.

Democratic Precinct Meeting.

Pursuant to a call issued by the Democratic Executive Committee of Mason county, the Democracy of Maysville, precinct No. 1, will meet at the Court House on Saturday, January 7th, 1882, at two o'clock p. m., for the purpose of selecting ten delegates to represent said precinct in a county convention that meets in the Court House in this city January 9th, 1882, for the purpose of nominating candidates to be voted for to fill the various county offices at the ensuing August election. A full attendance of the Democracy is desired.

JOHN W. ALEXANDER,

Ch'm Maysville precinct No. 1.

MESSRS COX & PONYTER shipped a large number of plows to the South to-day.

BUCK JOHNSON, colored, was frozen to death near Minerva, on the 24th ult., while under the influence of liquor.

THE large vote polled by Mayor January at the election on Monday, is a high compliment to his popularity and efficiency as a city officer.

THOMAS BRILEY, of Mt. Olivet, was arrested Monday evening by Marshal Fitzgerald, on the charge of carrying a concealed deadly weapon. At his examination before Mayor January he was fined $25 and sent to jail for ten days.

BETWEEN ten and eleven o'clock Monday night three men were discovered in an attempt to break in to Adams & Co's distillery below town. They skipped for safer quarters as soon as the watchman made his appearance. Their object, no doubt, was to get a supply of corn, a large quantity of which is stored in the building.

THE net wharfage receipts for the year ending December 31st, 1881, amounted to the following:

January.....	$ 80 10
February.....	207 00

OWING to the large attendance at the Bazar on Saturday evening, the managers were unable to raffle at that time all the articles in which chances had been taken, the disposing of them was consequently postponed until Monday evening, and resulted as follows:

Pickle Castor, Miss Lide Mackey,
Doll-Red Riding Hood, John T. Cook,
Child's Circular, S. S. Riley,
Fifty bushels of coal, J. H. Sallee,
Doll Bride, R. D. Stewart.

In this connection we are requested to say that the Sisters of the Visitation return their thanks to the public for the liberal patronage received, and to the Neptune Fire Company for the use of the hall on such generous terms, and to the ladies and gentlemen of the city and neighborhood who aided so efficiently in making the Bazar a success.

The Building Association.

At the meeting of the Building Association held last Saturday night, the old Board of Directors was re-elected with the exception of Mr. George W. Blatterman, whose business arrangements prevented his serving longer as a member of the Board. Dr. J. Sackelford was elected in his place. The President, Secretary, Treasurer, and Attorney will be chosen by the board of Directors at a meeting to be held this evening. We are indebted to Mr. M. C. Russell, the obliging Secretary for the following interesting information concerning the Association: The shares are divided into three series. The first which embraces those subscribed when the Association was formed have paid in up to this date as weekly dues on each share, $22.25, and will at the next meeting be entitled to a dividend for the past year of $1.25 a share which is six per cent. interest on the money invested. The second series of shares are those subscribed January 1, 1880. Each share of this series up to this date has paid as weekly dues $13.25 and has earned a dividend of 75 cents which will be also paid at the next meeting on Saturday evening. The third series began with the present year and embraces one hundred and forty-seven shares already. The affairs of the Association have been well managed, and the result of the year's work, as exhibited above is much better the most hopeful of the members expected. It is one of the most important institutions of the city and one that has been of great direct benefit to many of our citizens.

COUNTY POTINS.

TWO LICK.

Plenty of rain and mud.

Rev. W. S. Spates preached at the school house last Friday.

Several young persons from this place attended the christmas festival at Mt. Olivet Saturday.

Germantown Lodge F. A. M., No. 207, elected the following officers on Tuesday the 27th, viz.:

W. M.—T. M. Dora.
S. W.—B. W. Wood.
J. W.—W. C. Johnson.
Secretary—John Erion.
Treasurer—D. Norris.
S. D.—S. E. Mastin.
J. D.—Joel Woodward.
S. and T.—Robert Politt.

A sumptuous dinner was prepared by Judge Dora, and the members of the lodge did ample justice to the vivands. Homo.

GAS POINT.

Billy Gilligan lost a horse recently.

Dr. Monahan's sale was well-attended last Saturday. Everything brought tolerably fair prices.

Eld. Northcott filled his appointment at McKendrie's chapel last Sunday.

Mark Fuller and wife, of Iowa, who have been visiting in Kentucky will return home in a few days. Two young gentlemen of Pleasant View will accompany them home.

Charley Howard, who has been on the sick list for some time, is, we are glad to say, about well.

Some of the neighborhood boys have been playing pranks on the academy at this place, such as carrying benches off and putting rails against the door. Go in boys you know your failing.

UNCLE SAM.

GERMANTOWN.

Leslie and Charley Jolly, of near Paris, formerly of this place are visiting relatives here.

J. J. Malloy, of Lexington University, spent the holidays with his parents near here.

Mrs. M. S. McLean, after a lingering illness died Wednesday morning at four o'clock and was interred at the Christian cemetery, Thursday evening.

Miss Murry, teacher of the intermediate department of the Germantown Academy, returned Saturday from a visit to her home at Indianapolis, Ind.

We understand twenty-eight jugs were taken to Mt. Olivet Christmas eve. We did not hear what number was brought here, but judging from the information we have been able to gain, the number must have equaled that taken to Olivet. But, be that as it may, a person like Diogenes wandering around at midday, with a lantern, searching for a man (in the full sense of the word), might have striven that night with electric lantern, to have found a "sober" man, and then been disappointed. Such a time has not been known for years. One by one they were escorted home (being unable to navigate). A wheelbarrow was employed for some. A boy having heard the Hillsdale Band would be in town upon hearing the wheelbarrow rattling over the sidewalk said: listen! mother, isn't that the Hillsdale Band? Dot.

A Paris shop keeper launches little balloons as an advertisement, and sometimes gets tidings of them from a distance. One launched on November 2nd had two days later reached Westphalia.

London papers say that Lady Hill-Trevor's jewelry was worth nearly $3,000,000. It was taken, evidently by some one acquainted with the house, and two servants have been arrested on suspicion.

Latest freak of fashion: The rule now is for every lady to have her age indicated on her hat brim. Every inch of width represents three years. A ten-inch brim means that the lady is thirty years old; a twenty-inch brim shows that she is sixty, and so on. It is a charming conceit.

A Baltimore eleven-year-old boy dreamed that some men were trying to kill him, and attempted to get away from them. His father, awakened by the noise, entered the boy's room and found him hanging fast asleep, by the hands from the sill of the window, which was in the second story. He rescued him with difficulty.
